BLACKSTONE'S HOSTS FIRST MONTHLY POP-UP EVENT

Blackstone's hosted the first of its monthly pop-ups to feature various departments from its sister store, KitchenWares by Blackstones (215 Newbury St.)
On Thursday, Sept. 27, neighbors had a chance to learn more about the various types of knives (both German and Japanese) carried at the Newbury Street shop. Tanisha Gray, KitchenWares' store manager, was on hand to demonstrate how to use the various knives, as well as to how to hone your knife.
"Our second pop up for KitchenWares will be on Thursday, Oct. 25, just in time for Halloween and the upcoming Thanksgiving season," Gray said. "We plan to partner with a local grocery as well with details coming soon."

The one-half mile, two-hour Halloween costume parade around the Esplanade to benefit the park and highlight it as a resource for dog owners will be led this year by radio personality Kennedy Elsey of Mix 104's "Karson & Kennedy." Besides the parade, the Promenade will feature games, demos and giveaways, as well as goodie bags for all attendees, courtesy of Pawsh Dog Boutique, which has partnered with the Esplanade Association on the event since its inception.

Nancy Maida, who owns the dog boutique and salon at 31 Gloucester St. with her husband Mike, said, "Pawsh Dog Boutique is thrilled to partner with the Esplanade Association again this year to help organize the eighth annual Canine Promenade, a great community event that brings together dogs

FOPG annual meeting to feature plan for Charlesgate Park

By Dan Murphy

The Friends of the Public Garden will hold its annual Members Reception at the Ritz Carlton, 10 Avery St., on Thursday, Nov. 15, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

At this time, Marie Law Adams and Dan Adams from the Somerville-based architectural and urban design firm Landing Studios will outline their vision for Charlesgate Park, as well as the community plan led by the nonprofit Charlesgate Alliance to reclaim the long-neglected area of the Commonwealth Avenue Mall where it intersects with two other historic parks – the Back Bay Fens and the Charles River Esplanade.

Their innovative design aims to improve the "key link" created by venerable landscape architect Fredrick Law Olmsted that abuts Back Bay and Fenway and runs adjacent to Kenmore Square, which was lost more than half a century ago to the construction of the Bowker Overpass.

"We are enthusiastic about our upcoming Members Reception when we will share with our members the creative design and plans, initiated by the Charlesgate Alliance, for recovering the lost segment of the Commonwealth Avenue Mall at Charlesgate where the Mall, the Fens and the Esplanade come together," said Liz Vizza, executive director of the Friends group.

This reception is complimentary for current FOPG members, but space is limited. You are a current member if you have made a contribution to the Friends in either 2017 or 2018. Contact Rachel Hangley if you'd like to inquire about your membership status at 617-723-8144 or via email at rachel@friendsofthepublicgarden.org. R.S.V.P. for the event by Nov. 8.

BEACON HILL CIVIC ASSOCIATION COMMUNITY CORNER

The Beacon Hill Civic Association is pleased to collaborate with our nonprofit neighbors, providing opportunities to come together, to learn and to enjoy. Throughout the year, the BHCA presents Historic Preservation Roundtables with the Museum of African American History, Summer Evenings at Otis House with Historic New England, and Evening at the Esplanade with Beacon Hill Village to name a few.

In the spirit of Evening at 74, which was held last November at 74 Joy St. with a concert by the Neave Trio of the Longy School of Music, we begin a new collaboration at Beacon Hill Friends House, with a special presentation "East of the Sun, West of the Moon – Traditional Turkish Music & Classical Piano Improvisations". Ceren Turkmenoglu, a Turkish violinist, will join the talented classical pianist, Christos Vayenas for this intimate evening of traditional Turkish music of the Ottoman Empire & Western Classical Piano Improvisations, accompanied by Turkish food, wine and conversation.

This exciting event will take place on Thursday, November 8th, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at Beacon Hill Friends House, 6 Chestnut St., Beacon Hill. Tickets can be purchased online at www.bhcivic.org/upcoming-events, or by calling the BHCA at 617-227-1922. We hope you can join us.

ONE DALTON HOSTS RECEPTION FOR DESIGNER VANI SAYEED

Boston's new Four Seasons Hotel & Private Residences at One Dalton Street, designed by the legendary 92 year-old architect Henry Cobb and Cambridge Seven Architects, is slated to open in April. At 61 stories, the glass and steel skyscraper is certain to be a Boston landmark. On Thursday evening (Sept. 27), and with a nod to Boston's design community, One Dalton hosted a reception to honor one of Boston's top interior designers, Vani Sayeed, at a VIP reception that was held in the One Dalton Gallery at the Four Seasons Hotel on Boylston Street. Sayeed, who was recently invited to be the Residences preferred designer, has an impressive client list that includes Joe and Lauren Kennedy, and pro-bono work for Vanessa Kerry's non-profit organization Seed Global Health.

MAINTAINING THE URBAN TREE

Watering, fertilizer, and pest control maintenance are the three key ingredients for healthy trees in the urban jungle.

Newly planted trees require continued watering, ten gallons per week on the average throughout their active growing season. If you have a watering hose, set it at low pressure and water once a week for approximately 1/2 hour or more often during periods of hot weather. Best times to water are early morning or evening.

When fertilizing young trees, one application in the spring is adequate. A slow release, high nitrogen fertilizer can be used for the first four years. Do not fertilize any tree in midsummer. Mature trees need not be fertilized on a yearly basis.

The days of public spraying of trees with insecticides and pesticides are a thing of the past. Contact a certified arborist to diagnose and manage insect and disease problems.
